RUNAWAY HORSE

A horse belonging to the Union Stockyards Company, and driven by three sailors, was killed yesterday afternoon. The men tied the horse up in front of the Union Grill. The animal became restless and one of the men untied the horse to take it across the street to safer place. The horse began to rear and plunge and finally turned sharp around and headed up King stree tin the direction of the stable street in the direction of the stable quite a distance. The animal endeavored to run into the Stockyards Stables entrance, but slipped and fell, breaking
